

Walking On TRAVELS

ABOUT US

Walking on Travels, owned by Keryn Means, is the site that gives hope to today's adventurer that doesn't want to put their active lives on hold when they have children. They want to learn how to take their kids along for the ride and show them all the great sights, eats and hotels across the globe.

But we are taking "family travel" one step further. Moms want and NEED permission to run away when they need a break, and we are ready to show them how to ditch the family, get refreshed and come back to the kids. After all, if mom is a wreck, who is going to plan the trip that shows the kids the world?

TESTIMONIALS

I've had the pleasure of working with Keryn both in an editorial fashion and as an ambassador for Rocky Mountaineer. I appreciate her tireless drive to share authentic stories that offer a fresh angle, an interesting perspective, and – always – a compelling reason to travel. Keryn approaches her content as a storyteller first, weaving a narrative throughout each piece to bring the story to life in a such way that feels like you are on the journey with her. She has an innate ability to produce and convey meaningful content, be it with words, photos or a combination of the both, that inspires you to strive for new experiences, which is an incredibly powerful thing.

- Nicole Ford, Rocky Mountaineer

My colleagues and I have worked with Keryn on many travel stories and trips. She is a true professional and always delivers. Keryn pays meticulous attention to detail which shines through in her stories, where she relays the best and most noteworthy parts of her travel experiences in an honest and authentic voice. Keryn is extremely easy to work with, very patient, understanding, and truly a pleasure to work with.

Keryn Means is the ultimate professional travel blogger. We have worked together on two destination marketing campaigns and she helped me find the right writers for each trip, who all produced inspiring online content about my city. She is extremely detail oriented and helped with every aspect of campaign planning, and just as important, she has a great sense of humor. I would highly recommend her as a partner for any destination or brand that is looking to amplify their message to an ideal audience. - Toni Smith, Tempe Tourism

I had the opportunity to work with Keryn for a number of years during her time as an ambassador for Microsoft Office. One of the things that I came to appreciate the most about her was her natural ability for storytelling. Her role as a wife, mom, friend, traveler and businesswoman, coupled with her ability to speak to the product in a natural way, took Office from Seattle, to New Orleans to D.C. and beyond. As a public relations professional, I can say that Keryn is passionate, honest and an absolute pleasure to work with.
